

Bibliography

The bibliography includes publication data for every work cited in the source notes of the articles. It should be noted that while there are more than a thousand titles listed, this bibliography can by no means be considered exhaustive. Taken together, the literature on the Titanic, Bounty, and Columbus's Niña, Pinta, and Santa María comprises hundreds of books and articles. Even a comprehensive listing of nautical bibliographies is impossible here, though four have been especially helpful in researching this book:

Bridges, R.C., and P. E. H. Hair. Compassing the Vaste Globe of the Earth: Studies in the History of the Hakluyt Society 1846–1896. London: Hakluyt Society, 1996. Includes a list of the more than 300 titles that have appeared under the society's imprint.

Labaree, Benjamin W. A Supplement (1971–1986) to Robert G. Albion's Naval & Maritime History: An Annotated Bibliography. 4th edition. Mystic, Conn.: Mystic Seaport Museum, 1988.

Law, Derek G. The Royal Navy in World War Two: An Annotated bibliography. London: Greenhill Books, 1988.

National Maritime Museum (Greenwich, England). Catalogue of the Library, Vol. 1, Voyages and Travel. London: Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1968.

There are many interesting avenues of research in maritime history on the Internet. Two have been particularly useful:

Maritime History Virtual Archives, owned and administered by Lar Bruzelius. URL: <http://pc-78-120.udac.se:8001/WWW/Nautica/Nautica.html>

Rail, Sea and Air InfoPages and FAQ Archive (Military and TC FAQs), owned and administered by Andrew Toppan. URL: <http://www.membrane.com/~elmer/> mirror: <http://www.announce.com/~elmer/>.

In addition, there are a number of online discussion groups to which one may subscribe. Two excellent forums are the Marine History Information Exchange Group owned by the Marine Museum of the Great Lakes at Kingston, Ontario, and administered by Maurice D. Smith, curator of the museum (URL: <http://www.marmus.ca/marmus/marhst.html>); and the Underwater Archaeology Discussion List, owned and administered by Anita Cohen-Williams (URL: <http://lists.asu.edu/archives/sub-arch.html>).
